County approves street agreement - but will city council?

By John A. Small
Managing Editor

The Johnston County Board of Commissioners this week took a tentative step toward resolving its ongoing dispute with the City of Tishomingo regarding street maintenance.

During their regular weekly meeting at the county courthouse Monday morning, commissioners Jacky Hallmark, Mike Thompson and T.J. Clements voted to enter into an interlocal agreement with the city - contingent upon approval by both the Tishomingo City Council and Assistant District Attorney Fern Smith, as well as establishment and approval of fees the city would have to pay for county assistance.

It is that fee schedule that may continue to be a sticking point where city officials are concerned. As previously reported, city council members have repeatedly asked why the county is requesting compensation from Tishomingo while providing similar services to the county's other municipalities without compensation.

Hallmark, who first raised the issue of compensation late last year, has stated that - unlike the other municipalities - Tishomingo is receiving sales tax funds that are specifically earmarked for city road projects. He and Clements have continually argued that the lack of compensation from the city has severely tapped county resources that may be needed elsewhere.

Both commissioners reiterated those sentiments during Monday's meeting. Hallmark, in particular, stressed that he has never been opposed to helping the city but feels the county deserves to be paid for that help.

"I have no problem whatsoever with working for the City of Tishomingo, as long as we can come to some kind of agreement on the compensation," Hallmark said.

Clements agreed but also expressed concern that,

Voter registration deadline for Feb. 11 election is this Friday

This Friday, Jan. 17, is the last day for voters residing in the Wapanucka Public School District to apply for voter registration in order to be eligible to vote in that district's school bond election on Feb. 11.

Wapanucka voters are being asked to approve a proposition calling for a $220,000 bond issue for the purpose of purchasing new transportation equipment.

Feb. 11 was originally the date scheduled for Johnston County's annual school board elections. However, Election Board Secretary B.J. Wheaton told the Johnston County Sentinel on Tuesday that, because there are no races involving three or more candidates, there is no need for a primary election.

Accordingly, the election for school board seats scheduled to be filled this year will now take place on Tuesday, April 7. This was originally set as the date for a runoff election should one become necessary.

As first reported in the Dec. 12 edition of the Sentinel, only two races developed during last month's three-day filing period for the 2020 election.

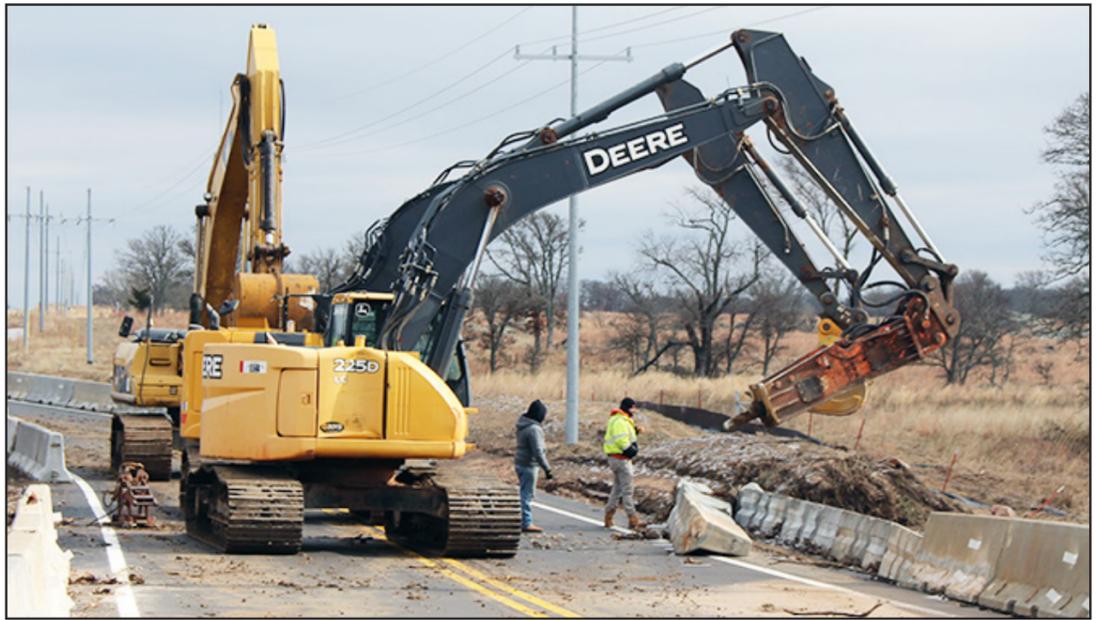

One of those is in Tishomingo, where incumbent Doug Blackburn is being challenged by former longtime Tishomingo High School Coach Boyd Houser for the seat in Office No. 5.

Meanwhile, in Mill Creek, Kathy Castleberry and Darrell Riley are squaring off for the right to fill that district's Office 5 seat.

Barbara Kinney and Sarah Smith have both filed as candidates for the Milburn Board of Education, but each are running unopposed. Kinney filed for the Milburn Office 4 seat, while Smith filed for Office 5.

Also running unopposed

Heavy rains wreak havoc on county roadways

Construction crews at the site of the road reconstruction project at Highway 7 approximately one mile east of Highway 377 are seen working last Saturday, Jan. 11, to replace several concrete barriers that were washed away during the heavy rains that swept through Johnston County the previous day. The severe weather forced the closure of the highway for much of last Friday and into the following morning, but aside from the barriers being washed away little damage was reported. Unofficial reports obtained Monday put rainfall totals throughout Johnston County at anywhere from 3.5 to 5 inches during Friday's storm; the Oklahoma Geological Survey's website (http://climate.ok.gov/index.php/climate/rainfall_table/local_data) reported Tuesday that Tishomingo had recorded 4.12 inches of rain over the preceding seven-day period. Three charged in county barn break-in case

The investigation into a series of break-ins at the Johnston County District 3 barn in Ravia late last year has resulted in the filing of a variety of felony charges against three individuals.

Two of those individuals - Dustin Adam Hoots, 32, of Tupelo, and 35-year-old Adam Blake Hamilton of Ada - have each been charged with two felony counts of burglary in the second degree, as well as one count each of conspiracy and larceny of an automobile.

Hoots has also been charged with an additional felony count of falsely personating another to create liability.

The third defendant - identified as Emilee Diane Bennett, 39, also of Ada - has been charged with a total of four felony counts according to the court documents.

Those charges include trafficking in illegal drugs; harboring a fugitive from justice; possession of a controlled dangerous substance without tax stamp affixed; and maintaining a place for keeping or selling a controlled dangerous substance.

An affidavit by Johnston County Undersheriff Gary Dodd states that the investigation began when deputies responded to a report that the District 3 barn had been broken into and burglarized on the evening of Nov. 29.

Among the items reported stolen were two pickup trucks - one of which, a Chevrolet 3500 flatbed, was reportedly recovered early the following morning in an untraveled alleyway less than a mile from the barn.

According to the affidavit, Dodd was informed on Dec. 22 that the other truck - a 2011 Chevrolet 2500 extended cab pickup - had been the target of a pursuit by Pontotoc County deputies in Ada. The truck crashed, and the driver and a passenger fled on foot.

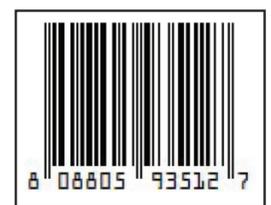

The passenger, Ashley Hoots, was captured but the driver, believed to be Dustin Hoots, managed to escape.

Several days prior to the pursuit and crash, the affidavit states, the truck had been seen on surveillance video being used in a burglary north of Ada.

The investigation into that burglary led to the identification of Hamilton - said to be a known associate of Hoots, and wearing an ankle monitor at the time while on probation with the Oklahoma Department of Corrections (DOC)

It's time again for the 'Guess The Oscars' Contest

When I was a young man, a favorite singing group of both my mother and the girl I would eventually marry was the Statler Brothers. I was rather fond of them myself - in part because of their connection to Johnny Cash - and I especially liked a song of theirs called "The Movies."

Not surprising, I suppose. Though I was and remain an incurable bookworm, I was also a great fan of the movies. I spent a lot of Saturdays and Sundays in front of the TV, drinking in the films of Abbott and Costello and Errol Flynn, George Pal and John Ford, King Kong and The Mark of Zorro.

And movie night at the local theatre was always a special treat; the first movie I actually remember my parents taking me to as a wee nipper was a Disney double bill - Bambi and Winnie The Pooh and The Honey Tree - at the old Luna Theatre in Kankakee back in 1966.

Movies have been an important part of the American fabric since the first Nickelodeon opened in Pittsburgh in 1905. They've provided more than just entertainment; they've boosted our morale in times of difficulty, such as the Great Depression and World War II. The movie industry's great triumph during the 1930s and '40s lay in giving the public what it wanted to see. Its product was therapeutic diversion for millions of Americans who needed to get away from their troubles.

From the comedies of the Marx Brothers and Disney's animated Mickey Mouse shorts to Frank Capra's Mr. Smith Goes To Washington and John Ford's Stagecoach (both released in 1939), Hollywood provided crucial relief to Americans when they needed it the most - and reached a pinnacle of influence, at a time when most other industries were struggling mightily.

And while the Golden Age of Hollywood is today just a dim memory, movies have the potential of filling that same important role for us today.

And it is for this reason, as much as any other, that I have sponsored my annual "Guess the Oscars" Contest for so many years. Especially these days, when it seems all we get in the national headlines is more and more bad news, the movies - whether viewed in a darkened theatre or at home on your Blu-Ray player with your best girl curled up on one side of you and your best dog curled up on the other - can still help get our minds off our troubles and enjoy ourselves for a couple of hours.

If there's a better cure for the blues than hearing Bud and Lou do their "Who's On First" routine, or cheering on Luke Skywalker when he fires that proton torpedo that destroys the Death Star, or cheering on Tyrone Power's Zorro or John Wayne's Ringo Kid, or singing along with Gene Kelly or The Winders... well, let's just say that I have yet to find a better cure.

Well, it's that time again. This year's nominations were announced on Monday, and now it's your opportunity to try and guess who will walk away with the Motion Picture Academy's biggest awards this year.

For those who may be joining us for the first time, the object of the contest is for movie fans to try and out-guess me in picking this year's winners in what are generally considered to be the six most important Oscar categories: Best Picture, Actor, Actress, Supporting Actor, Supporting Actress, and Director.

Entrants are also invited to try to answer five movie-related trivia questions. The trivia questions are included primarily for fun, but can also be important because they can help (and in fact have helped) determine a winner in the event of a tie in guessing the Oscar recipients.

Think of them as extra credit questions on the final exam...

Those participating can enter as often as they like, via a copy of the Entry Form clipped out of the newspaper (Page 12 in this issue), or printed from our online edition. The entry forms can be hand-delivered to the newspaper office, or sent by mail to: "Guess The Oscars" Contest, c/o Johnston County Sentinel, 706 W. Main Street, Tishomingo, OK 73460.

The winner will be announced in the Feb. 13 edition of the Sentinel - the issue following the Oscar telecast on Sunday, Feb. 9. All entries must be received by the Sentinel no later than 5 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 7.

At the moment we're still in the process of putting together our movie-themed prize package for this year's contest winner. I hope to have that information ready to share with you in the next week or so.

In the meantime, following are the nominees for the six major awards (with my own picks for those that I think should win listed in boldface):

Best Picture: Ford V Ferrari; The Irishman; Jojo Rabbit; Joker; Little Women; Marriage Story; 1917; Once Upon A Time In Hollywood; Parasite.

Best Actor: Antonio Banderas, Pain And Glory; Leonardo DiCaprio, Once Upon A Time In Hollywood; Adam Driver, Marriage Story; Joaquin Phoenix, Joker; Jonathan Pryce, The Two Popes.

Best Actress: Cynthia Erivo, Harriet; Scarlett Johansson, Marriage Story; Saoirse Ronan, Little Women; Charlize Theron, Bombshell; Renée Zellweger, Judy.

Supporting Actor: Tom Hanks, A Beautiful Day In The Neighborhood; Anthony Hopkins, The Two Popes; Al Pacino, The Irishman; Joe Pesci, The Irishman; Brad Pitt, Once Upon A Time In Hollywood.

Supporting Actress: Kathy Bates,

Richard Jewell; Laura Dern, Marriage Story; Scarlett Johansson, Jojo Rabbit; Florence Pugh, Little Women; Margot Robbie, Bombshell.

Best Director: Martin Scorsese, The Irishman; Todd Phillips, Joker; Sam Mendes, 1917; Quentin Tarantino, Once Upon A Time In Hollywood; Bong Joon Ho, Parasite.

And now for this year's trivia questions:

1. Before they each became iconic movie stars in the 1970s, these five actors - Burt Reynolds, Robert Redford, Dennis Hopper, Robert Duvall and Charles Bronson - all had one thing in common during the 1960s. What was it?

2. This former movie Tarzan also appeared on screen alongside The Three Stooges, and was the stepfather of one of Hollywood's best-loved Oscar-winning actresses. Who was he?

3. Years before gaining worldwide fame and acclaim as the composer for such Hollywood blockbusters as Jaws, Star Wars and Superman, John Williams wrote the score for this somewhat obscure but thoroughly enjoyable Dick Van Dyke movie. Name the film.

4. Superheroes are all the rage in Hollywood these days, but years ago two actors best-known for their comic book alter egos each appeared in Best Picture Academy Award winners. Name the actors, their comic book characters AND the Best Picture films they appeared in.

5. This film was the first to ever be shown at a drive-in theatre. Name the movie, and the year in which it was released.

Remember, the six Oscar categories and the five trivia questions are also listed in the official contest entry form that appears elsewhere in this week's issue. That form will also be included in the next several issues, so keep an eye out.

And good luck, movie fans!

Break-in on an earlier charge - as having been involved in the Pontotoc County break-in.

On Dec. 31, Dodd's affidavit states, Dodd was informed by a special deputy with the U.S. Marshal's office that Hamilton was at a residence in Pontotoc.

Deputies subsequently located Hamilton and took him into custody, and while at the residence also encountered Hoots, who during questioning reportedly identified himself as Dustin Stein.

Further investigation - including interviews with representatives of DOC Probation and Parole and identification of a distinctive boot print found at the county barn - placed Hoots and Hamilton at the scene of the break-in, according to the affidavit.

The affidavit also indicates that several other burglaries in other locations, including Pontotoc and Pottawottomie counties - may eventually be tied to both suspects as the investigation continues.

A second affidavit by Undersheriff Dodd states that the charges against Bennett - identified as Hamilton's sister - stem from a Jan. 3 incident in which deputies returned to Bennett's home in Pontotoc for a follow-up interview. It was at Bennett's residence that Hamilton and Hoots had been taken into custody on Dec. 31.

According to the affidavit, Bennett was under supervision of the Johnston County District Attorney's office at the time, allowing the deputies to conduct a DA's supervision check of the residence.

While searching the residence, the affidavit states, deputies found a large amount of methamphetamine and several items of drug paraphernalia in Bennett's purse.

Other items of paraphernalia, along with a large amount of cash, were recovered at several locations throughout the house, the affidavit reports.

The document goes on to state that Bennett is currently on deferred sentencing on previous drug-related offenses in Johnston County as well as in Craig County, where she was the subject of an active warrant for trafficking methamphetamine.

Hoots, Hamilton and Bennett each made their initial appearance in Johnston County District Court before Associate Judge Laura Corbin on January 8. Corbin denied bond for Hamilton due to a charge in Pontotoc County for escape from DOC custody.

Bond for Hoots and Bennett was set at $75,000 and $70,000 respectively, according to the court documents.

Corbin also scheduled a status conference for Bennett for Jan. 22 at 1:30 p.m. Status conferences for both Hoots and Hamilton are scheduled for Feb. 10, also at 1:30 p.m.

Voice Of The People

January is School Board Appreciation Month

Dear Editor:

As citizen leaders, individual school board members face complex and demanding challenges. Yet few people fully understand the scope and far-reaching implications of board members' responsibilities. All Oklahoma citizens should recognize the vital contributions of these men and women, and focus attention on the crucial role these elected public officials play in the education of our children.

Their job is to establish a vision for the education program, design a structure to achieve that vision, ensure schools are accountable to the community, and strongly advocate continuous improvement in student learning.

That job entails many meetings; numerous school functions to attend; reams of reports, agendas, proposals and other information to read and study; and a host of difficult decisions to make.

School board members come from all walks of life. They are farmers, secretaries, doctors, lawyers, homemakers, architects, plumbers, electricians, truck drivers, professors, business owners and real estate agents, to name a few.

Although they wear many hats in the workday world, school board members put on a collective hat when they get down to the business of leading their school districts. Board members must pull together as a team toward a common goal—helping students achieve. Though they may individually disagree on certain issues, their role as a board is to consistently strive toward that goal.

Board members contribute hundreds and hundreds of hours each year leading their districts. Whether it is crafting policies, hiring top-notch administrators, listening to staff and student concerns or recognizing outstanding programs, board members always keep their eyes on the goal of student achievement.

The time spent in board meetings represents just a small fraction of the hours school board members spend leading their districts. They also work hard at seminars and training sessions to keep abreast of the latest trends in educational leadership; are deeply involved in community activities; and spend many hours in the schools and at extracurricular events. Their love for learning, and concern and caring for students, staff and community, drives board members' desire to lead so students can achieve.

In recognition of their dedicated service, January is designated School Board Recognition Month. This is a time to show appreciation and begin to better understand how local trustees work together to provide a better future for our children.

In January, join with others from throughout our district and state to salute the men and women who provide grassroots governance of public schools. Make a special effort to tell each school board member that his or her hard work has been noticed and is truly appreciated.

The men and women serving Tishomingo Public Schools and their years of service are:

Board President - Doug Blackburn, 20 years;
Vice President - Scott Hutchings, two years;
Board Clerk - Amy Gantt, three years;
Board Members - Kenneth Locke, 24 years, and Sarah Carter, one year.

Questions about polycart deposits are addressed

By Matthew Cravatt
Sentinel Correspondent

A matter of procedure has come up at Ravia Town Hall regarding polycart deposits, and residents moving inside the Ravia Public Works (RPWA) refuse disposal service area.

In short, the cart belongs to Southern Oklahoma Regional Disposal Inc. (SORI), is serialized and registered to that address, and should not be moved to any different address.

Instead, current utility customers in good standing should notify RWPA Clerk Kim Murray at Ravia Town Hall two weeks before moving in order to have a new polycart waiting at their new address upon arrival, applying their previous deposit to the new address.

You may have already guessed, it's all a matter of how computers keep track of the books but it does help keep cost down, and benefits all Ravia residents to follow agreed upon RPWA and SORI procedures.

OMRF accepting Teen Leader applications

The Oklahoma Medical Research Foundation (OMRF) is seeking applications for its eighth annual Teen Leaders in Philanthropy class. Applications are due March 13.

High schoolers entering their sophomore, junior and senior years are eligible to apply for the program, which helps students gain a deeper understanding of the nonprofit sector.

Through group activities and panel discussions with community leaders, students will develop hands-on leadership skills; learn about different types of giving; and how they can best implement these skills in their communities.

The program is free for students, and all expenses are covered by OMRF.

Students selected as teen leaders will learn the fundamentals of development, board structure, networking, fundraising and using social media.

They will work collectively on a special event to cap off the program activities in the spring.

Applicants must demonstrate good academic standing and attend school in Oklahoma.

Group sessions will begin in September and continue throughout the 2020-21 school year.

For more information, visit omrf.org/teen-leaders.

The westbound school zone in Milburn is from just east of the convenience store to about a block west of the elementary school, beyond the baseball fields.

Going eastbound the school zone begins about 30 feet after the first 35 mph sign and ends just east of the convenience store.

The school zone is 25 mph from 7:30 a.m. until 4 p.m. every school day.

Daily, I see many cars and nearly all trucks speeding well above the legal 25 mph. Once in awhile, I will see either a highway patrol car or a sheriff's department vehicle giving tickets to speeders, but very seldom.

Pregnant women who had low plasma levels of omega-3 fatty acids in their first and second trimesters were at a significantly higher risk of preterm birth when compared with women who had higher levels of these fatty acids, according to new research published in EBioMedicine. Preterm birth is a leading cause of neonatal death and is associated with cognitive deficiencies and cardiometabolic problems later in life among survivors.

A landmark study has found that a newer targeted drug is significantly more effective than standard therapy for treating elderly patients with chronic lymphocytic leukemia (CLL). The drug, ibrutinib, (brand name, Imbruvica) attacks cancer cells without damaging normal cells, thus causing fewer side effects. The drug is taken as a pill once a day—much more convenient than the standard treatment requiring the patient to come in three times a month for infusions and an injection.

A new study in children aged 6 to 12 years of dasotraline, a promising new treatment for attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD), showed significant improvement in efficacy in the treatment of ADHD compared to placebo beginning at week 1 and continuing throughout the study. A detailed description of the trial design and the results is published in the Journal of Child and Adolescent Psychopharmacology. In August 2018 the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) issued a Complete Response Letter for the New Drug Application (NDA) for dasotraline. Upon completion of their review, the FDA determined that they cannot approve the dasotraline NDA for the treatment of ADHD in its current form. The Agency indicated that additional clinical data are needed to further evaluate the efficacy and tolerability of dasotraline for the treatment of ADHD. Presented as a service to the community by

Regional Food Bank of OK celebrates milestone

The Regional Food Bank of Oklahoma recently celebrated the millionth pound of protein repackaged and distributed through its Protein Packaging Center. The Protein Packaging Center, which began operation in 2016, takes donated bulk protein (like chicken and pork) and repackages it into family-friendly sizes. The protein is then distributed to the Regional Food Bank's network of community-based partner agencies in 53 counties in central and western Oklahoma.

"Protein is one of the most requested items from our neighbors living with hunger," Katie Fitzgerald, chief executive officer of the Regional Food Bank, said. "We are so grateful to the generosity of our donors and community partners who helped make this milestone possible."

The Regional Food Bank was the first food bank in the country to have an on-site, USDA-certified facility capable of handling large quantities of donated meat products.

The Protein Packaging Center has enabled the Regional Food Bank to increase the amount of protein it provides for the one in six Oklahomans living with hunger.

"We are so proud of the hard work and innovation by Regional Food Bank employees to make the Protein Packaging Center a reality," Fitzgerald said.

"The millionth pound milestone would not have been possible without the dedicated volunteers who work alongside the staff." Volunteers are integral to the success of the Protein Packaging Center and are needed to help repackage protein products Tuesday through Friday at the Regional Food Bank. Both morning and afternoon volunteer shifts are available.

Visit rfbo.org/volunteer to help provide this important source of nutrition to those living with food insecurity in Oklahoma.

MSC professor emeritus subject of OKC art show

The composite photographic artworks of Ardmore artist and Murray State College Professor Emeritus Sharon Burris are highlighted in the show "Dark Worlds, New Realities" on display on the Oklahoma City Community College campus until Jan. 24.

The composite photographic artworks of Ardmore artist and Murray State College Professor Emeritus Sharon Burris are currently on display in a one-woman show, "Dark Worlds, New Realities," at the Inasmuch Foundation Gallery in the Visual and Performing Arts Center on the Oklahoma City Community College campus.

The show features Burris's photographs, each consisting of several different photos, shading and color layers, printed on glossy aluminum. Some photos have as many as 18 different layers. A combination of botanical and architectural images has been arranged to create surreal landscapes and abstracts that allow viewers to create their own narratives for the pieces.

"This medium allows viewers to see different aspects and images in the different layers when they see the work from different angles. I love how people find their own stories in my work," Burris said.

Burris became interested in photography while in college and worked for more than a decade as an award-winning photojournalist.

She has won several awards with her composite photographic works in area and regional shows.

As professor emeritus at MSC, Burris continues teaching as an adjunct professor of mass communication in Ardmore and Tishomingo.

"We are always proud to see Burris succeed in the world of art and photography. She is both an inspired artist and treasured mentor and professor for students at Murray State," MSC President Joy McDaniel said.

The show, curated by fellow Ardmore artist Rudy Ellis, will be on display until Jan. 24.

The Inasmuch Foundation Gallery is open Monday-Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at 7777 S. May Avenue in Oklahoma City.

The public is invited to a closing reception on Jan. 21 at the gallery from 6 to 7:30 p.m.

Paid Obituary

Lindsey Ann Varner

Funeral services to honor and celebrate the life of Lindsey Ann Varner were held at 11 a.m. Monday, Jan. 13, at Fletcher Auditorium on the Murray State College campus in Tishomingo, Okla. Family hour was held from 3 to 5 p.m. on Sunday, Jan. 12, at DeArman-Clark Funeral Home in Tishomingo.

Lindsey Ann Hix Varner, 36, of Tishomingo, completed her journey on earth after a courageous battle with cancer, surrounded by her family and friends, on Jan. 7, 2020, at Texoma Medical Center in Denison, Texas. Lindsey was born Sept. 22, 1983, in Muskogee, Okla., to Winston and Debbie (Lowe) Hix. She married Keegan Varner on July 17, 2010, one hot day on Fort Gibson Lake near Okay, Okla.

Lindsey graduated from Muskogee High School in 2002 and went on to Conner's State College in Warner, Okla., where she pursued her degree in agriculture. From there she went to Oklahoma State University, where she received her bachelor's degree in animal science. Lindsey then began her career with OSU Extension as an Extension 4-H educator in Pottawatomie County, and later in Bryan County.

While working as an extension educator, she completed her master's degree in agriculture education from OSU. In 2012 Lindsey became a vocational teacher for Milburn Public Schools.

Lindsey loved animals, and was big in barrel horses and always enjoyed working with her family and grandparents at the track with their race horses. Growing up, Lindsey was active in 4-H and FFA, even serving as a state 4-H ambassador and multiple offices in her local FFA chapter.

Lindsey's passion for agriculture exuded in her love for rodeos, livestock shows and youth education. Lindsey was the matriarch or "gentle giant" of her household. She was a brave, fierce warrior and an ultimate fighter who stared cancer down for 18 months, handling her condition and treatment with dignity and grace. Our world is darker because her light no longer shines. Our hearts are empty and heavy with sadness. Lindsey may have lost the battle but most assuredly won the war!

Lindsey lived a very full, active life and never ceased to show her pride in her FFA kids. Lindsey's most cherished possessions were her family and friends, and her greatest love were her babies, Kohen and Kennedy.

Lindsey was preceded in death by her mother, Debbie Hix; her grandparents, Ray and Ruth Hix; and a brother-in-law, Kevin Varner.

She is survived by her husband Keegan, son Kohen Fletcher and daughter Kennedy Ruth, all of the home; parents Winston Hix of Muskogee and Patton and Pamela Varner of Walters; a brother Casey Hix and wife Jamie, their children Parker and BeBe of Phoenix, Ariz.; grandparents Don and Alice Lowe of Muskogee, Ira and Roberta Kennedy of Geronimo, Okla.; Gail and Sylvia Varner of Walters, Okla.; Karen Hix of New Braunfels, Texas; Richard Hix and wife Irene of Muskogee; David Hix and wife Krinna of Muskogee; Dan Hix and wife Evelyn of Mustang, Okla.; Joleyne and David Temple and son Seth of Pauls Valley, Okla.; and Ann and Terry Taylor of Chandler; as well as a host of cousins and friends.

A public viewing was held on Sunday, Jan. 12, from 1 to 3 p.m. at the DeArman-Clark Funeral Home in Tishomingo.

In lieu of flowers, a scholarship fund has been set up at Landmark Bank in Lindsey's name.

Keegan would like to thank the Johnston County community for the outpouring of support and love shown to his family during this difficult time. He would also like to thank Dr. Alex Eshan, Dr. Jill Heffernan-Ruiz and the nursing staff of Texas Oncology and Texoma Medical Center in Denison for taking them in as family.

Lindsey will live on in our hearts. We are sad from her loss of physical presence, but rejoice she is now pain-free and at peace.

CNRA's annual Eagle Watch event set for Jan. 18

Chickasaw National Recreation Area staff will host this year's Eagle Watch on Jan. 18 and 25.

This free event begins at 9 a.m. inside the Travertine Nature Center, where visitors will have the opportunity to listen to a ranger share a fun and educational presentation about the bald eagle.

Afterward, visitors will use their own vehicles to follow park staff to Lake of the Arbuckles.

Bringing a set of binoculars is highly encouraged for maximum viewing potential. Spotting scopes will be provided by park staff and set up at designated eagle "hot spot" locations.

Those planning to participate are asked to dress appropriately for the weather and wear comfortable shoes.

Additional activities will be hosted at the Chickasaw Cultural Center in the afternoon.

During migration season, approximately 2,000 eagles make their winter homes near lakes and rivers in various locations across Oklahoma.

Lake of the Arbuckles is a popular roosting destination for some of these magnificent birds of prey.

For more information about Chickasaw National Recreation Area visit www.nps.gov/chic, or call the Travertine Nature Center at (580) 622-7234.

State lawmakers comment on surprise medical billing

State Reps. Marcus McEntire (R-Duncan), Chris Sneed (R-Muskogee) and Tammy Townley (R-Ardmore) commented Monday on the ongoing discussions to eliminate surprise medical billing in Oklahoma.

A surprise medical bill is a bill an out-of-network health provider issues to a covered insured person for health care services in an amount greater than the patient's cost-sharing obligation that would apply for the same services by an in-network provider.

What makes these bills surprising is the patient has no knowledge the provider rendering his or her health care services is out of the patient's network.

"Surprise bills commonly occur when a patient receives care from an out-of-network physician in an in-network hospital," McEntire said.

Negotiations about surprise billing between the Legislature, the Oklahoma Insurance Department, health care providers, and health insurers occurred in earnest last session, but neither consensus nor a compromise could be reached before the session ended.

"After the last session, we were discouraged about the pace of the surprise billing negotiations," McEntire said.

"However, we are extremely pleased with the pace of negotiations over the interim. We are happy to announce an agreement with health providers and insurance companies to hold enrollees harmless to surprise bills and prohibit the practice of surprise billing."

McEntire went on to say, "Both the insurance companies and health providers emphatically stated in our meeting that patients should be held harmless."

Similar sentiments were expressed by both Townley and Sneed.

"It was wonderful to see health insurance companies and health care providers come to the table in a positive environment and work on the legislation for surprise billing in Oklahoma," Sneed said.

"Our goal from day one was to take care of our Oklahoma consumers. I am so proud of the efforts that have been made in regard to surprise billing."

Sneed added, "We are excited to be moving forward for Oklahomans with surprise medical billing this session. The majority of parties involved have been to the table numerous times during the interim to work on the issue."

McEntire said the lawmakers intend to run a bill prohibiting surprise billing during the early part of the upcoming session, but added that there is still hard work and tough decisions ahead.

"The difficult challenge is to find an agreed-to method for insurance companies to compensate out-of-network providers," she said.

"We have encouraged health care providers and insurance companies to negotiate a fair system of compensation or a mediation process and bring it to us."

Quick Mart a longtime, vital member of local community

This week's Member Spotlight is on Quick Mart, which has been around for decades but has only had a few owners.

Each of them has added their own touches to the menu. Mike and Pam Lovett continued to serve the traditional "hotbox" deli items that had been introduced by the previous owner, Jerry Lynn Lawley, during their tenure as owners.

The next owners after the Lovetts, Tom and Mary Lokey, introduced pizza and steak fingers to the menu.

Current owners Brad and Jessica Lawley have brought in rotisserie barbecue pork and burgers.

The deli currently includes burritos, egg rolls, pizza pockets, two flavors of corn dogs, three different kinds of chicken strips, potato wedges, hot wings, potato munchers, mozzarella sticks, bone-in fried chicken, pizza sticks and chicken crispos.

They also have several breakfast items that are served from 5 to 10 a.m. like biscuits, breakfast pizza, etc.; shrimp on Mondays; fish on Wednesdays; and steak fingers on Fridays.

The seating area started as a handful of booths in which high school kids would pile on top of each other to eat their deli food.

Eventually it was expanded in 2009 by the Lokeys to include a much larger seating area, which includes free Wi-Fi and a TV.

The expansion made room not only for more seating but for a beer cave; a larger office; extra storage; and a second bathroom.

There are currently about 15 employees, including store manager, er, Amy Dixon; assistant manager, Detra Smith; and kitchen manager, Hanna Golden.

Quick Mart is very well known for Annette's Southern Sweet Tea, named in honor of the previous store manager, the late Annette Biggs.

The convenience store/eatery is expected to get an interior face-lift at some point in 2020.

The business has donated to and sponsored many Johnston County fundraisers and events, including athletic tournaments and medical expense fundraisers for community members; and has been a long-time member of the JCCC.

In 2019, Quick Mart launched "The Santa Cause," a gift/toy drive benefiting the children and teens currently in foster care in Johnston County, and gave away Chamber Bucks as an incentive.

We greatly appreciate our partnership with Quick Mart and everything they do for the community to serve the needs of their customers.

You can learn more by visiting them at 702 W. Main Street in Tishomingo, Monday through Thursday from 5 a.m. to 11 p.m.; Friday and Saturday from 5 a.m. to noon; and Sunday, 6 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Please follow them on Facebook at Quick Mart - Tishomingo.

Bill seeks to end death penalty

State Rep. Jason Dunnington (D-Okla-homa City) on Tuesday filed House Bill 2876 for consideration during the 2020 legislative session.

If passed and signed into law, the measure will remove the death penalty from among the options in Oklahoma for sentencing in capital cases.

"Oklahomans are becoming more aware of the wasted costs of capital punishment, a system that provides no deterrent to crime while flushing millions down the drain that could be better spent on responses to violence that actually work," Dunnington said. In filing the bill, Dunnington detailed the primary objections to continued use of the death penalty:

- For every 10 inmates executed on death row in the US since 1976, one inmate has been exonerated;
 - The taxpayer cost of incarceration for death row inmates is more than twice that of inmates with life sentences;
 - There is no evidence to support that use of the death penalty is an effective crime deterrent.
- The measure will be assigned for a committee hearing in February.

Second degree burglary counts filed

A 27-year-old Tishomingo man has been charged with two counts of burglary in the second degree in connection with a pair of recent break-ins.

According to documents on file at the Johnston County Court Clerk's office, one of the burglary charges against Christopher Lamar Wallace stems from allegations that, on or about Jan. 1, he broke and entered into a building located at 104 N. Johnson owned by Ronnie Coppedge by breaking open a locked door.

The court records state that, during the investigation, police found

Wallace to be concealing a knife, tools, jacket and weed eater that had been stolen from the building.

That discovery resulted in the filing of an additional felony count of knowingly receiving or concealing stolen property against Wallace.

The second burglary charge is related to an earlier break-in that reportedly occurred sometime between Dec. 19 and Dec. 31.

The court records state that Wallace is alleged to have illegally entered a house located at 507 N. Maytubby and owned by Carolyn Edelman by breaking a window, with the intent of committing utility theft.

Court records also show that Wallace was previously convicted in Polk County, Florida, in 2014 on three counts of robbery with a deadly weapon.

He was reportedly handed a nine-year sentence on each count.

Each of the new burglary charges against Wallace carry a possible sentence of imprisonment in the state penitentiary for four years to life.

The concealing stolen property charge carries the same possible sentence, and/or a fine not to exceed $500.

Wallace made his initial appearance in Johnston County District Court on those new charges on Jan. 8.

Associate District Judge Laura Corbin set total bond at $60,000 and scheduled a status conference in the case for Feb. 10 at 1:30 p.m.

A preliminary hearing date is expected to be set at that time.

Wallace was still being held in the Johnston County Jail at last report. In addition to the felony charges against him, he has also been charged with misdemeanor counts of tampering with utilities and possession of marijuana.

Convicted felon charged with gun possession

A Kenefic man faces possible imprisonment after being charged with a felony count of possession of a firearm after a former felony conviction.

According to documents on file at the Johnston County Court Clerk's office, the charge against 41-year-old Robert Vernon Hardage stems from a Jan. 3 incident in which he was reported to be carrying a .22 caliber revolver pistol in his vehicle.

The court documents state that Hardage had been convicted in Bryan County on felony charges of burglary in the second degree and larceny of an automobile in 2005.

An affidavit by Deputy Ty Richeson of the Johnston County Sheriff's Office states that Hardage's vehicle had been pulled over by an Oklahoma Highway patrol trooper because it matched the description of a car that had reportedly left the scene of a domestic disturbance in Butcher Pen earlier in the day.

The trooper reportedly contacted deputies, who arrived at the scene a short time later.

Court documents state that the pistol was Wheaton said this week that persons who are United States citizens, residents of Oklahoma, and at least 18 years old may apply to become registered voters.

Those who aren't registered or need to change their registration may apply by filling out and mailing an Oklahoma Voter Registration Application form in time for it to be postmarked no later than midnight on Friday, March 8.

Stewart said applications postmarked after March 8 will be accepted and processed, but not until after April 2.

“The County Election Board responds in writing to every person who

“The response is either a voter identification card listing the new voter's precinct number and polling place location, or a letter that explains the reason or reasons the application for voter registration was not approved.”

Wheaton said any person who has submitted a voter registration application and who has not received a re-

Commissioners Proceedings

(Published January 16, 2020)

Thursday, January 2, 2020

Chairman Mike Thompson called special meeting of 1-2-20 to order at 5:30 p.m. Answering aye was Thompson, T.J. Clements, Jacky Hallmark. Others present was Ronnie Coppedge, Lanette Coppedge, Kim Canaday, Laura Wood, Sue Robbins, Tom Lokey, Mary Lokey, Marlon Sullivan, Sharon Boston, Sarah Carter, Randy McCollom and Kathy Ross.

Thompson opened the meeting with discussion on Yearly Road Assistance Agreement with City of Tishomingo. Thompson has several handouts available on the DA opinions, news articles, Attorney opinions and statutes. Tom Lokey states that he cannot speak on the behalf of the paper at this time. Also, the Council is not as up on statutes and such as Commissioners are because we don't deal with them on a daily basis. The City of Tishomingo has in past reimbursed the fuel, materials and some parts for break downs for projects that the County has assisted on. Marlon Sullivan asks if the statutes reference differs because of the sales tax. Thompson states that all of this was brought up when Webb Lane was brought to the Commissioners this last time. Hallmark states that at that time he began to consult with the Assistant District Attorney. She began to look into the situation and determine the sited information in the handouts. Mrs. Webb has gone as far as to call the Sheriff's office to report the road hazard. This is a safety problem for the constituents that travel this road. Thompson states that the Board has consulted with the ADA for the advisement of how to handle this problem so that the County does not violate the statute that allows road maintenance. Lokey states that the City and County needs to work together and come to a conclusion of a fee that both parties can handle. Lokey also states that the council does not have a legal counsel at this time and hope that within the next 2-3 weeks that would be resolved. Laura Wood asks, what's the problem, is it the grading of the roads? Hallmark asks why we are doing the work for the City of Tishomingo and not being paid. He wants to see that the City of Tishomingo is paying their part if we are working in their area. Sue Robbins asks if she should have brought the list of City of Tishomingo break downs, they are big too. We are trying to help each other. Lokey asks, what needs to be changed and we will see if we can work together. Thompson states that for years the County has worked with no funds. It's just been recently that we have had funds for extra things if we had a break down. Lokey states that the City of Tishomingo does have a sales tax that is split among the fire department, police and streets/roads. There is no amounts that is calling what the amounts are, it what the City allocates for what area/project. With this being said the streets/roads have not got much in last couple of years. Hallmark states that he would like to see us work toward an agreement to include the equipment and labor cost along with the fuel/materials as in past. Sullivan asks can we use the ODOT rates that we get for the mileage in the county or city. Hallmark states that he was thinking along the lines of $150.00 per hour for the equipment and hand. Lokey states that why it wouldn't not be $75.00 being the constituents are both City and County. Hallmark would like to see $1,000.00 per month for grading plus materials. Robbins states that the City of Tishomingo has been trying really hard not to go broke over the last 10 years. Clements states that he doesn't have many hands so he can't do much anyhow. Hallmark says that the volunteering has almost come to a halt, the cost has went up and no funds, sure makes it difficult to operate. Robbins states the City sure feels his pain; they are in the same shape. Thompson states that the times have changed over the years, he was glad that the times allowed the County to help the constituents in past. Wood states a review of all of the discussion and thinks that we can all work this out among the parties. The County needs to work to come to a figure that they are comfortable with and present it to the City of Tishomingo. That gives us a starting point, at least. Lokey states that the new city attorney may have different ideas too. Clements states that the City gets money from the Chickasaws and Blake Shelton for projects, but that hasn't helped us. Thompson clarifies that we have received funds in past years from Chickasaws for special projects. Lokey states that we need to present a fee schedule of what is reasonable for the County. Robbins states that we all have to work together at this matter. Lokey makes comment that he sure appreciates what Thompson has done in his time with the County and he will sure be missed. Thompson appreciates the comment and he has always tried to be a team player and work with the City of Tishomingo. We have to do the best for the people of Johnston County. We will work toward an agreement and put back on the agenda at a later date.

Hallmark motioned to adjourn meeting at 6:30 p.m., second by Clements, vote aye Hallmark, Clements and Thompson.

even with a fee schedule for compensation in place, projects elsewhere in the county may continue to be put on hold in order to provide assistance to the city when called upon.

“We quit digging graves last year because it was messing up our work schedule,” Clements said at one point. “If they (the city) call, are we going to have to drop whatever we’re doing somewhere else and come running?”

Thompson, the board’s current chairman, stressed his belief that the proposed agreement should focus solely on routine maintenance such as road blading.

He noted that the county has had a long history of assisting the city with special projects, such as the assistance provided with construction of the new fire station, and that he doesn’t expect that to change.

Hallmark’s motion to enter into the interlocal agreement contingent on the fee schedule and approval by the city and ADA was seconded by Clements and passed by a 3-0 vote.

In a separate but related agenda item, Thompson tasked Hallmark with the responsibility of drafting a proposed fee schedule that can be presented to the city council and ADA Smith in the near future.

Thompson initially asked for the draft to be presented at the commissioners’ meeting on Jan. 27, but he and Hallmark acknowledged that the timetable could be affected by pending road work related to last Friday’s heavy rains throughout the county.

Also during Monday’s meeting, the commissioners voted to accept one of three bids opened at their previous meeting on Jan. 6 for the purchase of a 2013 or newer model diesel track skid steer loader for District 2.

Two bids came in at exactly the same amount. United Rentals of Ada submitted a bid of $28,000 for the purchase of a 2013 John Deere loader. Warren Cat of Oklahoma City also bid $28,000 for a 2015 Caterpillar model.

The third bid, in the amount of $40,750, was submitted by Kirby Smith for a 2017 Takeuchi loader.

While two of the bids were identical in price, Thompson said he preferred the John Deere and preferred to accept that bid. Hallmark’s motion to that effect was seconded by Clements and approved 3-0.

The commissioners also voted 3-0 to advertise for bids for the purchase of a remount for an ambulance in the Johnston County EMS fleet.

EMS Director Kenny Power stated that he has two units currently in need of a remount, but is focusing on rebuilding only one at the moment. Power noted that the majority of the project will be paid for through grant funds recently awarded to JCEMS.

The bids are scheduled to be opened during the commissioners’ Feb 10 meeting. Power said he will present the bids to the EMS board at its meeting later that week, and will return to the commissioners on Feb. 17 with the board’s recommendation.

Monday’s meeting also saw Thompson reappointed to serve another term as the board of commissioners’ chairman during 2020.

It will be Thompson’s final term as chairman, and reportedly his final term as District 2 commissioner. Thompson has stated at several recent meetings that he does not plan to run for re-election this year.

Thompson’s appointment was approved by a 3-0 vote. The board also voted 3-0 to reappoint Hallmark to another term as vice chairman.

In other business Monday, the commissioners took the following actions:

- Voted 3-0 to allow county workers to enter onto private property for the removal of debris and replacement of a fence along a right-of-way on Rock Creek Loop Road; and
- Voted 3-0 to approve a map certifying the boundaries of Johnston County as part of the 2020 U.S. Census project.

found between the driver’s seat and the center console.

According to Richeson’s affidavit, an open bottle of Crown Royal and several syringes were also recovered from the vehicle.

The affidavit also states that Hardage showed signs of being under the influence of methamphetamine at the time.

Hardage was transported first to Mercy Hospital in Tishomingo for a blood test, then transferred to the Johnston County Jail where he was still being held at last report.

During Hardage’s initial court appearance on Jan. 8, Associate District Judge Laura Corbin set bond at $40,000 and scheduled a status conference in the case for Feb. 10 at 1:30 p.m.

A preliminary hearing date is expected to be set at that time.

If convicted, Hardage faces a possible sentence of imprisonment for one to 10 years.

He has also been charged with several misdemeanor counts, including driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of drugs.

The other misdemeanor charges include carrying a firearm while under the influence; possession of methamphetamine; driving under suspension; possession of drug paraphernalia; and transporting an open container of liquor.
